Did You Know?

- Scripps Florida, which is located on the Jupiter Campus of FAU, is the largest animal research facility in the State
- Has tested primates with “ecstasy” and injected chimps with Hepatitis C and has been cited for animal cruelty by the Food and Drug Administration
- Has received funds from the Department of Defense for biological research
- Is a leading private research corporation in biotech engineering, including genetically engineered food crops and pharmaceuticals
- Is expanding its facilities (if not stopped) onto the the Briger Tract, an 800 acre pine flatwoods ecosystem, just south of the campus. The facility will require the forest to be cleared for the new biotech city.
